					RAILWAY PARCELS STAMPS
					Unless otherwise stated, used stamps bear rectangular or six-sided railway parcel cancels. Grading of stamps into Fine Used and Used categories is problematic as parcel cancellers were designed to obliterate each stamp, and intrude on to surrounding stamps. When grading the postmark, we consider clarity, thickness and any ink bleeding. Multiple strikes on each stamp are normal. Grading of railway parcel stamps can not be compared to normal postage stamps. Whilst cds cancels do exist, they are in the tiny minority. Examples are illustrated below.
